Woodall Parents:

It is that time of year once again. The possibility of inclement weather is quickly approaching, we wanted to update you on the procedures we have in place. If the weather makes it unsafe for students to be at school in person, Woodall School will either have a Snow Day – which means the school is closed and students will not attend in person or have virtual learning, or we will have a Distance Learning (Virtual) Day - which means students will log on with their electronic devices for instruction. Students will follow the procedures their teacher has put in place for meeting times, checking in, checking assignments, completing assignments, etc. We practiced virtual learning in October, so students should be familiar with the procedures. Some teachers will send home instructional packets for Distance Learning days. Please follow the teacher's instructions on how to complete the packets and please bring them back to school when we return. Attendance and grades will be taken on the Distance Learning days, and they are counted as instructional days.

If your student/s need of a hotspot, please contact your student's teacher promptly so that we can send home paperwork and issue you a hotspot.

Parents will be notified of inclement weather days (Snow Days or Distance Learning Virtual) on local news stations (Channel 2(NBC), 6(CBS), 8(ABC), and/or 23(FOX)). The info will also be posted on our school website (www.woodall.k12.ok.us), Facebook page, and we will send out an automated message via the school message system. If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out for clarification.

Sincerely,

Kim Kocsis, Principal
